Faculty Advisors:
Professor Mortimer Sellers   (x4650, rm. 527)   msellers@ubalt.edu
Professor Nienke Grossman   (x4529, rm. 525)   ngrossman@ubalt.edu

A student must take the required course and five or more courses on international or comparative law topics.

1. Required course:
   - International Law

2. Choose three of the following:
   - Comparative Law
   - Conflict of Laws
   - Foreign Taxation (GTP)
   - Immigration Law
   - International Business Transactions
   - International Criminal Law: Courts, Crimes & Defenses
   - International Intellectual Property
   - Law and Human Rights
   - Maritime Law
   - National Security Law
   - One course offered in the Summer Abroad Program in Aberdeen, Scotland
   - One course offered in the Winter Abroad Program in Curaçao
   - Other ABA-approved study-abroad programs (only one course in any single program could be counted towards the concentration)
   - Any course taken in a foreign law school for which UB grants credit toward the JD degree.
   - Any of the courses or activities listed below in #3 or #4 that are not also being used to satisfy the requirements in #3 or #4.

3. Choose one of the following scholarly writing courses:
   - One Human Rights Seminar
   - European Community Law Seminar
   - International Environmental Law Seminar
   - Military Law Seminar
   - Advanced Legal Research involving an international or comparative law topic that is approved by International and Comparative Law Concentration advisors
   - Journal of International Law (Law Comment)

4. Choose one of the following experiential courses or moot court teams:

- ☐ Attorney Practice Externship involving international or comparative law that is approved by the Director of the Attorney Practice Externship in consultation with the International and Comparative Law Concentration advisors
- ☐ CICL Student Fellows Program I
- ☐ Immigrant Rights Clinic
- ☐ Inter-American Human Rights Moot Court Team
- ☐ Jessup International Moot Court Team